Wilmington Women in Business
Annual Business Meeting Scheduled for June 14

Wilmington, Delaware -- Wilmington Women in Business (WWB) will hold its annual Business Meeting on Tuesday, June 14 at the University & Whist Club of Wilmington. To register for the event, please contact Wilmington Women in Business at (302) 656-4411.

The meeting will feature a presentation by guest speaker Jocelyn Coverdale. Coverdale, a local productivity training professional and member of WWB will present the workshop "Organized Focused and Good to Go." In her presentation, Coverdale will address how to tackle six key organizing challenges. As well, she will offer strategies to improve personal productivity.

"There is a real, but hidden, cost to disorganization," explains Coverdale. "This cost can be staggering -- time, money, missed opportunities, relationships and even our health can be among the casualties. In the search for meaning, balance, well-being, and success in our lives, curbing the chaos is crucial."

WWB is the first and largest resource and support group for professional women in the Brandywine Valley region. WWB members hail from Northern Delaware, Southeastern Pennsylvania, Northeastern Maryland, and Southern New Jersey. WWB membership provides a structure through which members can contribute to career development by means of professional contact and mutual education. WWB also offers the opportunity for recognition of members' achievements.

WWB members offer expertise in many fields including finance, information systems, sales, insurance, law, consulting, government service, real estate, health care, personnel, design, teaching, marketing, counseling, retailing, planning and development, and more.
